MARCH STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

Hagan Gambrel is the Randolph Southern seventh grade student of the month for March. Hagan is a hard working student who is always willing to help his classmates. He is very active outside of school. He is part of the cross country, basketball, and track teams. Hagan enjoys skateboarding in his free time. He plans to go to college after high school and hopes to play professional baseball after college.

Selected by Mrs. Chelsea Pruitt

Ross Greenwell is Mr. Pike's 8th grade student of the month at Randolph Southern. Ross has been a great asset to the music department and is an excellent drummer and guitar player. In addition to rocking out on his instruments, he has taken a larger leadership role with the band and takes the time to inspire and lead the younger musicians in the program. His hobbies are practicing music and songwriting. He plans to attend Purdue to study electrical engineering and aspires to become a professional musician after high school. Ross is a pleasure to have in class and I couldn't be more excited to witness his continued development as a person and musician. Keep up the great work, Ross!

Selected by Mr. Jordan Pike

Mr. Fish has chosen Breanna Harrison as freshman student of the month. Breanna is a hard working student and athlete. She is a member of the volleyball, basketball and softball teams where she strives in each to always get better. She is an outstanding student who shows up for class everyday ready and eager to learn. I believe that Breanna has a bright future ahead in everything she attempts. Breanna always has a smile on her face and is a joy to have in class. Good luck in all of your future endeavors, Breanna.

Selected by Mr. Billy Fish

It is with great confidence that I honor Melissa Kinney as the student of the month for March for her effort in all of her classes, and her kindness and compassion towards others. Melissa enjoys singing in the school choir, and works very hard to help with her younger brother whenever her help is needed. Melissa has shown great improvement over the course of this school year, especially during the third nine weeks.

Selected by Mr. Garret Gleckler

Chelsey McClish has been chosen as Randolph Southern's junior student of the month. Chelsey is an intelligent and dedicated student with a quick wit. It is a pleasure to see what insight she will bring to class each day! In her free time, Chelsey enjoys activities like riding 4-wheelers. Chelsey plans to attend university and pursue a career in obstetrics; perhaps as an ultrasound technician. Pregnancy and childbirth interest her. It is wonderful to have her in class and I wish her the best of luck in all of her future endeavors!

Selected by Ms. Stegman-Frey

Ally Saylor has been selected as the March Randolph Southern senior student of the month. Ally is an excellent student athlete who has challenged herself academically through AP and ACP courses while maintaining a high GPA. She has been an integral part of the successful varsity Lady Rebel basketball team for four years fighting back from a season ending injury her sophomore year. After graduation Ally plans to attend Indiana University to study dietetics. She is destined to be a successful college student as well as a positive role model for others.
